CODE OF ETHICS

The Modular Building Institute has adopted these articles to promote and maintain high standards of professional service and ethical business conduct among its members.

- A member shall deal fairly with customers, colleagues, fellow members, and the general public.
- A member shall conduct his or her professional life in accordance with the interests of MBI, the commercial factory-built structures industry, and the general public.
- A member shall adhere to honesty and integrity and to generally accepted principles of professional conduct.
- A member shall not engage in any practice, which tends to corrupt the integrity of MBI, the commercial factory-built structures industry, or process of government.
- A member shall not intentionally misrepresent information concerning his or her financial and professional business background.
- A member shall make proper, just and prompt payment for all contractual obligations.
- A member shall abide by all lawful agreements to which he or she is a party, including all agreements with suppliers.
- A member shall compete vigorously, and fairly, with other members.

As a member of the Modular Building Institute, we pledge:

- To conduct ourselves professionally, with truth, fairness, and responsibility to our customers, MBI, and the commercial factory-built structures industry.
- To improve our individual competence and advance the knowledge and proficiency of the commercial factory-built structures industry through continuing education.
- To subscribe to and offer to the public quality products at a fair price.
- To promote greater awareness of alternative construction methods and practices.
- And to adhere to the articles of the Code of Ethics as adopted by the governing Board of the Modular Building Institute.
