* Qualified Attendees: To ensure the highest quality educational and networking event, free registrations are reserved for potential end-users and customers of the modular building industry, examples of which include developers, architects, engineers, traditional contractors, government agencies, schools, and universities. These types of attendees are referred to as "Qualified Attendees." Qualified attendees are NOT individuals or companies already engaged in modular construction, nor are qualified attendees suppliers of building materials, products, or services. Free registration is intended to inform qualified attendees about the advantages of modular construction. Free registration is at the sole discretion of MBI and may be revoked at any time. Students must provide proof (acceptable to MBI at its sole discretion) of current school enrollment when registering.
